Review of the Canvass.

Yesterday was a bright day, and we presume all over the State, the people had the opportunity of exercising the rights of freemen. We hope the vote has been a full one; if so we feel quite sure Jonathan Worth will be the first Civil Governor of North Carolina. A purer, a more consistent, and a more honest and capable man at the present time, she could not have, to fill that office.

The opposition to Gov. Holden we were anxious to prevent, until it was forced upon us, by his own illiberal course towards our people, and by the bitter and denunciatory course of his organ, the Standard. It has railed at us, abused and misrepresented us, nay has filled its columns with false issues and the most unfounded assertions, but we have kept steadily to our purpose not to be betrayed into angry or bitter retaliation. A more vulnerable candidate was never before a people—a more vulnerable and weaker defence was never made, hence the labor necessarily forced upon us has cost us, but little pain or uneasiness.

If he is beaten, as we believe he is, it has been more on account of his own indefensible course, and the violence and bitterness thrown into his defence, than to any of the usual appliances resorted to to defeat him. We have avoided untenable or false issues, or bitter and denunciatory language. All that was needful was a cool and clear exhibition of the truth.

If he shall have been successful, it will be momentary, and only because the time was too short for the canvass, the superior advantages he possessed—holding the entire machinery of government, and the poor facilities afforded by the mails to spread information.

With us it has been purely a contest of principle. Our personal feelings have been entirely ignored, and our convictions of duty to the State, duty to President Johnson and his administration, and our duty to our fellow citizens, alone have influenced us. We repeat, what we have heretofore said if Gov. Holden had shown the magnanimity of Govs. Sharkey and Perry, in his administration of the affairs of this State, which have given to President Johnson and his administration so strong a hold upon the Southern people, there would have been no word of opposition raised against him. He might have been Civil Governor or U. S. Senator, as he might have preferred, and we doubt if any one, no matter how hostile, personally or politically heretofore to him, would have raised a voice against him.

We are requested to return the sincere thanks of Rev. A. R. Raven to those who so kindly aided in saving his goods on Wednesday night last.

The Election.

The mail facilities are so poor in the State, that an unusual long space must elapse before the vote for Governor can be ascertained. We guard our readers against relying upon the returns for the first forty-eight hours. They will be mostly favorable to Mr. Worth we think, but not sufficiently extensive to judge of his majority in the State. Wake, Johnston and Chatham will give the best vote for Gov. Holden, east of Orange.

On the line and east of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, Mr. Worth's majority will be between 5000 and 10,000 Westward from thence to the mountain district, his majority will be larger. The impossibility of spreading information in the mountain District, leads us to concede that District to Gov. Holden by perhaps 5000 majority.

NEWBERN TIMES.—The false and unmanly assaults of this paper upon the Sentinel, are too low and contemptible to be noticed by us. The junior editor of that paper, in his attempts to "harmonize" and to adapt himself to the situation, has gotten down so low, that many of his old friends enquire with surprise, "Is that Asa Hartz who used to be in the Confederate service, and used such swelling words, while in the service and while a prisoner at Johnson's Island?" They say it is the same man. The Senior was whipped and subjugated very early, but even he does not try quite as hard to get down as the junior. The "strait sect" in Craven will however be taught by the election, better sense, if not better manners it is hoped. We shall not notice their gyrations.

INSURANCE.—The late fire ought to impress upon our people the necessity of effecting insurance upon their property. Our columns will readily suggest to our readers where they should go to effect insurance. The N. C. Mutual Insurance Company is again doing business and Messrs J. G. Williams & Co are agents for various Companies.

Mr. Crow also effects Life Insurance as well as our own State Company. All these Companies are reliable.

Sentence Remitted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Twenty-eight members of Company M. 12th New York Cavalry, were in July last, convicted at Raleigh, N. C., by general court martial, of having caused and created a mutiny, at Tarboro', in that State, and were sentenced to be discharged from the service and confined in Forts Macon and Caswell, at hard labor, for the term of one year, with the loss of all pay, allowances and bounty due them. Major R M. Taylor, of that regiment, who has earnestly been engaged for several weeks past on behalf of these men, has, by solicitation with the President, procured the remittal of the sentence, and they will therefore be immediately released from confinement, with all their allowances of pay and bounty.

We have actually been assured in print, and of course we can doubt nothing that we see in print, that New Hanover county will go for Holden!—What do the people say to that? We will hear on Thursday or Friday.—Wilmington Journal.

For the Sentinel.

The Storm is Over.

MR. PELL I find in an old paper of Nov. 1844, the following patriotic remarks, made at the close of the contest, in which Mr. Polk succeeded over Mr Clay. The paper had advocated with great zeal the election of Clay. Let us all now become patriots again, and do our whole duty to our State and our country. Whether Governor Holden or Jonathan Worth be elected let all give the successful candidate our hearty and honest support. Let all our efforts during his administration be directed to the cause. We have but one interest. We are all for the Union. We are all for the administration of President Johnson. Let us once more be united in spirit, and action and forget that we have ever differed as to men. Whether the Gubernatorial chair be occupied by one or the other candidate, he is during his adminis ration entitled to our earnest support. "We are going home," and should not fall out by the way. The few scratches we have given each other during the past few weeks will soon be healed, if we do not tear them open anew. They should be forgiven and forgotten. So mote it be!

"Now here's a hand my trusty frere,
Come gie 's a hair o 'thine."—BURNS.

Let the asperbitives of party warfare now cease among us. Let confidence between man and man, of whatever politics be again restored.—Let the looks of distrust and defiance give place to kindly greetings. It was a periodical family broil, in which Heaven knows there have been plenty of wrangling, and of bitterness—but which we trust is now over—and will be succeeded by a calm, in which the social feelings will again be cherished. The world will still turn on its axis, as it has done for six thousand years, whoever has succeeded. The wheels of the government will not stop, whether Clay or Polk be President of the United States. There is an elasticity, a recuperative energy in this great country that can stand much more than this.—Apprehensions of ruin and woe to our country from either contingency, however honestly indulged and vehemently urged, were weak and idle. The country is not ruined. It flourishes on, and will flourish we hope, forever. Let us now rally around our good old mother in peace, and show that our bickerings are over. In smiting each other, many a cruel blow have we planted in his honest face. Let us now gather together around her altars, and renew our patriotic devotions. Let us swear to stand by our country for weal or for woe. Whoever sits at the helm and controls her destinies. Our danger is not from without, if we will only yield to our patriotic impulses. The glorious memories of '76 impel us to cherish the blessing achieved by our fathers, and call upon us to forgive and forget our unhappy dissensions, and to unite once more in the pious talk of preserving and perpetuating to our posterity the fruits of their labors. We are Americans. Let us cherish long American feelings. Let us show that we have American hearts.

If in the humble share we have borne in the contest just closed, we have at any time been betrayed into too great zeal—if we have pierced the heart of any adversary deeper than was required to ward off a blow aimed at our own—or if we have gone beyond the bounds of fair retaliation, and been too bitter and revengeful, as we fear may sometimes have been true; we can only lament the occurrence, and give it a place in the chapter of regrets, over which erring humanity will sigh, as it reads the record of its humiliations." The Presbyterian Synod—Interesting Discussion on the state of the Church and on the question of Reunion with the Northern Synod.

FAYETTEVILLE Oct. 30, 1865.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—The Synod of the Presbyterian church in North Carolina convened in this place on last Wednesday evening. Owing to the unsettled state of affairs there was not as large an audience as usual, but most of the prominent and distinguished ministers of this denomination were present. The opening sermon was preached by the Rev. Joseph M. Atkinson, of Raleigh, who fully sustained his high reputation as a pulpit orator.

Rev. Colin Shaw was chosen Moderator. On Friday and Saturday a spirited and important discussion took place upon the subject of the state of the church. Incidentally the religious condition of the freedman was considered and resolutions adopted requiring unintermitted labor on the part of the church in their behalf.—Their religious condition was reported not so satisfactory at present, but hopes were expressed that upon the subsidence of the excitement upon the great change in their position and the continued efforts of Christians in their behalf much good would be effected.

The subject of reunion with the Northern branch of the church was largely discussed and with great ability by all the leading members of the Synod. Your correspondent regrets that it was not in his power to hear the discussion.—Many of the citizens availed themselves of the opportunity. It was finally determined to make no overtures in the matter, and as the Northern church had rendered reunion impossible declaring the Southern church out of fellowship until it acknowledged the sin of slavery, to await the rescision of this action on their part. The discussion was conducted with great kindness and in a Christian spirit, but there could be no question of the opinion of the Synod on the point of reunion, the division having taken place primarily upon the action of the Northern church upon the sin of slavery. The question under discussion was whether it was proper for the Southern church to make advances in favor of reunion. No action being taken the matter remains in statu quo, awaiting the action of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church of the South. On Sunday the pulpits of the Methodist and Baptist churches were filled by ministers from the Synod, and in this manner a fraternal feeling was encouraged and strengthed between the different branches of the Christian church. We had the pleasure, in common with a very large congregation, of hearing most able and eloquent discourses on Sunday morning and evening from the Rev. Professor Phillips, of the University, and the Rev. J. H. Smythe, of Greensboro. The great reputation of both of these gentlemen for learning and talent will assure you that none were disappointed. The limits of this letter will not allow a resume of the exercises of the day; which were intensely interesting. It seems to have been a delightful reunion among the ministers and elders of the church. The ancient hospitality of the old town was emulated, notwithstanding the inconveniences of the times. The Synod adjourned on Saturday evening to meet next October in Charlotte.—Wilmington Dispatch.

Important from Washington---A New Cabinet to be Appointed, Etc.

The New York Daily News of Monday publishes the following special dispatch from Washington:

It is reported on good authority that President Johnson will appoint his Cabinet early in December, and that Reverdy Johnson will be Secretary of State, General McClellan, Secretary of War; General Dix, Secretary of the Navy, and a distinguished Southern gentleman Attorney General.

It is said on the same authority that the President will not submit to the exclusion from Congress of the Southern members, as proposed by the Radicals. His message will distinctly announce those States as being in the Union, and entitled to full representation. The President will not recognize the right of the members from the Northern States to exclude the members from the Southern States. This determination of the President having become known to day, causes some wavering on the part of the Radicals.

The singular dilatory conduct of Governor Hamilton, of Texas, in regard to the convention and election in that State arises from his manœuvres to procure his election as Governor.—Intelligence just received from that State shows a movement which will probably be successful to elect as Governor, Senators and representatives to Congress men who have always been identified with the interests of Texas.

The death of Lord Palmerston is regarded as rather unfavorable to our relations with England. It is not known that there is any English statesman who will treat our claims with the same final justice and consideration.

The above statements must be received with some doubt.—ED. SEN.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.

Within the last few days property of great value in Loudoun county, Virginia, which had been libelled and condemned under the Confiscation act, and set apart for the use of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands, has been released by the Bureau, and the orders restoring it to the owners have been delivered.

The first batch of gold certificates, of the one thousand dollar denomination, went forward to the New York Sub-Treasury to-day. The five thousands have been in the hands of Mr. Van Dyck some days. Now that there is something of an assortment ready, the circulation of gold backs will probably commence in New York on Monday.

The twenty dollar notes are in press, giving on their elaborately engraved backs the fac-simile of a double eagle. Part of this issue of gold notes will be printed upon buff-colored paper. In one respect they will be like Bank of England notes. Once they come back to the Treasury they will not be reissued, but new notes will be furnished instead.

The statement that the Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the issue of another batch of five cent fractional currency has this foundation: About a million of dollars in five cent notes will be manufactured and sent South for circulation to supply a pressing want of small change in the reconstructed States. No more small notes will be furnished for the Northern market at present. It is estimated that a wheel-barrow load of currency is manufactured at the Treasury daily—very little of which comes back for redemption—yet there is a constant demand on the part of the public for small change.

The National Intelligencer.

The National Intelligencer of the 31st ult., announces its entrance on that day upon the sixty-fifth year of its existence. It thus sketches its history:

"Mr. Samuel Harrison Smith, in 1800, purchased of Joseph Gales, Sr., who was about to establish the Raleigh Register, in Raleigh, N. C., the Independent Gazetteer and the Universal Gazette—two papers which Mr. Gales had been publishing in Philapelphia—came with them to this city, and commenced the tri weekly Intelligencer, the Gazette being used as the weekly, and this arrangement continued thirteen years. In 1813 the Intelligencer was issued as a daily and weekly, and the Universal Gazette as a consequence, was discontinued.

"In 1809 Joseph Gales, jr., came from Raleigh, a young man, and became joint conductor and proprietor, with Mr. Smith, of the establishment. Two years subsequently Mr. Smith retired and moved into the country, and the paper was conducted solely by Joseph Gales, jr., till October, 1812, when his brother-in-law, Mr. W. W. Seaton, from Raleigh, became a partner in the concern, and the paper henceforth continued under the management and proprietorship of Gales & Seaton till July, 1862, a period of almost half a century, when the great and successful partnership was broken by the death of the senior partner. After the death of Mr. Gales the paper was conducted by Mr. Seaton till January 1, 1865, when the establishment was purchased by the present proprietors.

The Case of Jefferson Davis.

The Philadelphia Inquirer has the following dispatch from Washington:

It appears to have been finally decided that Jefferson Davis will receive a full and free pardon, and be furnished a passport to Europe, on giving his parole never to return. The several plans for his trial have all fallen through. The Norfolk Court of Judge Underwood, was abandoned on account of a doubt as to the question of jurisdiction, and the improbability of obtaining an unbiassed jury at that place. A military commission had been also agreed upon at one time, and evidences prepared tending to convict him of conspiracy in the assassination of Mr. Lincoln; but the President has concluded to have no more military courts-martials or commissions. It was also proposed to try him in Virginia, by a United States Circuit Court, over which Chief Justice Chase was to preside, but this was also found impracticable, as there is as yet no organization of the United States Court in Virginia, and if there had been, an impartial trial by jury there would be impossible. It is said that the President decided that he should not be tried any where out of Virginia, and over-ruled the proposition to try him in Baltimore or Washington, because he, Davis, committed his crimes in Virginia. Thus the matter stands. It is said that in addition to the united appeals of the rebel leaders in the South, to "let Davis go," Horace Greeley, Ward Beecher, and others, have visited the President and begged for the life and pardon of the "eminent Southern statesman."

PER CONTRA.—The Baltimore Sun, of yesterday, publishes the following special from Washington:

It is of no use for persons or delegations to ask the pardon of Jefferson Davis. It is certain as anything that can be said of human affairs, that he is to be tried for treason.

Mail Agents Appointed.

The following agents have been appointed on routes in North Carolina:

Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, E O. Macy, of Raleigh
Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, H. B. McKeithan, of Wilmington.
North Carolina Railroad, Jesse L. Garrett, of Raleigh,
Western North Carolina Railroad, J. G. Long, Company Shops.
Charlotte and Columbia Railroad, E Lyles, of Charlotte.
" " " —— Jones, Washington, D C.

These appointments complete the chain of Agents on the routes in this State, and we may now hope for some more regularity and certainty in the transmission of mail matter. Messrs. Laws and Sherwood, who have been for some time on the N. C. Railroad as Mail Agents, are skillful and attentive in the discharge of their duty, and if the new appointees are equally diligent, which we doubt not they will be, there will soon be no cause of complaint in regard to the mails.

Mr. Vassall, Special Agent for the State, informs us that arrangements are perfected to deliver in Raleigh, the mails from Washington in twenty three hours and a half, so that we shall get here in the evening, the Washington mails of the day previous.—Standard.

The Cholera.

THE DEATHS AT THE NEW YORK QUARANTINE—ARRANGEMENTS FOR PREVENTING CONTAGION—A RIGID QUARANTINE TO BE ENFORCED ON ALL VESSELS ARRIVING FROM INFECTED PORTS

No additional deaths from cholera on board the steamer Atlanta, which arrived at New York last Thursday, have been reported.

Dr Walser, in charge of the hospital ship at Lower Quarantine, New York, on Saturday made the following report:

"The steamship Atlanta was twenty-three days from London and Havre. Had forty-eight cabin and five hundred and sixty steerage passengers; was in London seven days All well on board. London healthy as usual. Received forty passengers on board, and steamed for Havre, where she lay two days, and received the balance of passengers. During the passage had sixty cases and sixteen deaths from cholera. The cases occurred as enumerated below, but, according to the statement of the doctor of the ship, seven deaths, had occurred among the passengers previous to their embarkation at Havre. The vessel is crowded and in a filthy condition."

By the above report it will be seen that the Atlanta was seven days in London before leaving for New York. At the former city she received forty passengers and then left for Havre, where over five hundred additional passengers were taken on board. There were then over six hundred passengers in all, and the vessel is described as being in a "very filthy condition."—The surgeon of the Atlanta states that seven deaths occurred among the passengers before they embarked at Havre. The cabin passengers were not all affected by the disease, while those in the steerage encountered it in a virulent form This is very suggestive and one worthy of consideration. There can be several reasons given for this confinement of the cholera to a certain portion of the ship It might have been uncleanliness, want of proper ventilation or other causes, but it certainly is a singular fact that none of the cabin passengers were stricken down. It is another strong proof that the disease is not contagious, which has heretofore been frequently asserted. The Atlanta will now be thoroughly fumigated, and the passengers who enjoy perfect health will be allowed to go up to the city when all symptoms of the cholera on board the vessel have disappeared.

The steerage passengers on the Atlanta did not know, it is said, till they arrived at this port that the disease that was among them was cholera. Some of the most intelligent among them suspected the fact, but the physicians carefully withheld positive information from them, fearing the effect of excitement among them. It is thought that this accounts for the fact that only fifteen of the five hundred persons who were exposed to the disease died of it. The passengers manifested very little anxiety; they did not seem to be much alarmed even after they learned the nature of the epidemic from which they were suffering.

The cabin passengers, who became aware very early in the voyage that cholera was on the vessel, adopted the wise plan not only of making themselves as comfortable as possible, but of diverting their minds from the subject of cholera by singing and amusements of various kinds.—They were careful concerning their diet, but in other respects they lived without any apparent regard to consequences. Some of the steerage passengers decided towards the close of the voyage, to follow the example of the cabin passengers; and they too sang and occupied their time in the manner most likely to banish melancholy thoughts.

The dead were buried soon after they had breathed their last. They were not in any case kept more than an hour The burial was in the ordinary form; and the usual burial services were held.

The deputy health officer was conducted to the steerage of the Atlanta, between nine and ten o'clock Friday evening. There was no light except that which came from a lantern; and only one of the passengers could be seen at a time—They were not separated, but were in their berths as they had been placed when taking passage Nine or ten were sick; two of the number were in a state of collapse; others were in the first stages of cholera. There were no unusual sights; but a few persons were groaning.

On Saturday the hospital ship Florence Nightingale was sent down to the Lower Bay. Stores, fee, medicines and all other necessaries were placed on board for the comfort and treatment of the patients. On Friday night some thirty men were put on board of her, who made all necessary changes so as to make all who require treatment as comfortable as possible. Dr. Theodore Walser, Deputy Health Officer, will have entire control of the vessel. All the cholera patients were removed on board Saturday afternoon. The remaining passengers, together with the small-pox patients, will remain on the Atlanta for the present. The following is the report of the physician in charge of the hospital ship:

STEAMSHIP ATLANTA, NOV. 4th, 1865.

Messrs. Howland & Aspinwall: Dear Sirs—The first impression of the condition of the Atlanta was rather unfavorable; but a closer examination assures me that all was done for the unfortunate passengers that circumstances admitted. No deaths have occurred since yesterday. Fifteen cases of cholera are to be transferred to the hospital ship as soon as she arrives and the weather admits of removal. The disease is of a mild type. The present unfavorable weather may unpleasantly affect the character of the disease. Respectfully, your obedient servant, THEODORE WALSER.

The Jews, both in this country and Europe, have, for several years past, been making great efforts to raise subscriptions for the re building of the Temple of Jerusalem, permission to that effect having been given by the Turkish Government. There is a sublimity of purpose about the movement which must claim the respect and sympathy of all Christendom.

Some years ago, Senator Borland, of Arkansas in reply to a challenge sent him by the Hon. T. B. Flournoy, said that he was "sufficiently shot at in the war with Mexico to satisfy the ambition of any man." It is hoped that all who have participated in our late civil war, are equally satisfied.

Bishop Johns has issued a pastoral letter to the laity of his diocese in the Episcopal Church, exhorting them to make proper provision for the support of the clergy, some of the ministers being obliged to leave their cures, in consequence of not receiving an adequate support.

Captain John J. Guthrie, late of the Confederate navy and formerly a Lieutenant in the United States navy, has received a pardon from President Johnson.

A History by Gen. R. E. Lee.

The New York correspondent of a northern newspaper states that General Robert E. Lee, of the late confederacy, has arranged with C. B. Richardson, of that city, for the publication of his "history of the rebellion." The book is now in process of preparation, and will probably be completed in the course of several months The articles of agreement between the parties are said to contain a stipulation to the effect that no alteration shall be made by the publisher after the manuscript gets into his hands—but that it is to be published as written. It is almost needless to say that such a work by such an author would be sought after with avidity by all American as well as European readers.

We are inclined to think, however, that the writer is not strictly accurate in his statement. We were informed some months ago, by a gentlemen who had means of information, that Gen. Lee had been visited by a New York publisher (we believe Mr. Richardson,) with the view of inducing him to write a history of the war, the publication of which, upon terms very liberal to General Lee, would be undertaken by Mr. R. If we were correctly informed the general did not, at least at that time, enter into any agreement on the subject. But he communicated to our informant the sense of obligation which he felt to do justice to the great army he had commanded, by making a historic record of its deeds of valor and its displays of fidelity and endurance. His personal reluctance at becoming the historian of events in which he was the chief actor, was increased by the fact that most of his official papers had been lost upon the evacuation of this city—but he recognized as of controlling force a debt of gratitude to the men he had commanded, and an obligation to the "truth of history." It may be, therefore, reasonably supposed that General Lee will avail himself of the retirement and favoring circumstances afforded by his present position to prepare a history of his campaigns, and of the achievements of the renowned army of northern Virginia.

The facts that his recollections and statements may lack the support of official vouchers will not detract from the credence with which they will be received What he says will be believed, by friend and foe, by Europeans as well as Americans, by posterity as well as the present generation.

One of Jones Hooper's Best.

Old Col. D———, of the Mobile District, was one of the most singular characters ever known in Alabama. He was testy and, eccentric, but possessed many fine qualities, which were fully appreciated by the people of the district Many of his freaks are fresh in the memory of the "old uns" of Mobile, and all of them will tell you that the colonel, though hard to beat, was once taken in by a couple of legal tyros It is George Woodward, I believe, that tells the story; but, however that may be, it is in keeping with others related of the old gentleman.

It seems that Col. D——— had a misunderstanding with the gentlemen alluded to and was not on speaking terms with them, although all of the three were professedly riding the circuit together. The young ones, being well aware of the colonel's irascible nature, determined, as they left one of the courts for another, to have some sport at his expense by the way. They accordingly got about half an hour's start in leaving, and presently arrived at a broad, dark stream, that looked as if it might be a dozen feet deep, but which in reality was hardly more than as many inches. Crossing it, they lighted, pulling off their coats and boots, and sat down quietly to watch for the "old Tartar."

Jogging along, at length, up came the fellows. He looked first at the youngsters, who were gravely drawing on their boots and coats, as if they had just had a swim—and then he looked at the broad creek that rolled before him like a fluent translucent star. The colonel was awfully puzzled.

"Is this creek swimming?" he growled, after a pause of some moments

No reply was made—the young men simply mounted their horses and rode off some little distance and stopped to watch our hero.

The Colonel slowly divested himself of boots, coats, pantaloons and drawers. These he neatly tied up in his handkerchief, and hung them on the horn of his saddle. Then he re-mounted, and as he was a fat, short man, with a paunch of inordinate size, rather inadequate legs, a face like a withered apple, and a brown wig, there is no doubt he made an interesting picture as he bestrode his steed, with the "breeze holding gentle dalliance" with his only garment.

Slowly and cautiously did the old gentleman and his horse take the creek. Half a length and the water was not fetlock deep. Here the horse stopped to drink. A length and a half—and the stream no deeper! Thirty feet further, and a decided shoaling!

Here Colonel D—— reined up.

"There must," he said, "be a h—— of a swift deep channel between this and the bank. See how the water runs! We will dash through!"

A sharp lash made the horse spring the watery waste, and another carried the horse and rider safely to the opposite bank. The creek was no where more than a foot deep.

A wild yell from the young'uns announces their appreciation of the sport, as they galloped away.

"I'll catch you, you ——— rascals," was groaned between Col. D———'s teeth, and away he galloped in hot pursuit, muttering vengeance on his foes.

On—on they sped, pursuer and pursued. The youngsters laughed, yelled and screamed—the Colonel damned with mighty emphasis, while his shirt fluttered and cracked in the wind, like a loose flying jib.

On—on—and the pursuer reached the farmhouse on the roadside. Their passing startled a flock of geese from the fence corner, which, as the Colonel dashed up, met him with outstretched wings, elongated necks and hisses dire. His horse swerved suddenly and the Colonel was upon the ground in a most romantic "heap," with his brown wig by his side and his bundle of clothes scattered around!

The white-headed children of the house came out first, took a distant view of the monster, as it seemed to them, and then returned to report progress. After a little the father of the family came, and the affair being explained, assisted the colonel in making his toilet, the colonel swearing and the countryman laughing all the while.

Dressed and remounted, our hero started off with a vomit phiz, and was soon out of sight.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE ÆTNA LIFE INSUSANCE COMpany of Hartford, have appointed

their General Agent for the establishing sub Agents in North Carolina and Virginia, according to his discretion. This Company has no superior in this country, is of long standing, and its Assets are over a million and a half dollars. It has a surplus of $300,000 over and above what is required to reinsure all its policies. Its monthly receipts are over $150,000. And it is issuing monthly nearly 1000 policies. Its rates are moderate and reasonable, and all losses promptly paid. Thus it is commended to all who wish to provide for their families and loved ones, a certainty for support when their earthly dependants shall have passed away.

For fur her information, call on the agent at his office formerly occupied by General Haywood.

WM. H. CROW, Agent.

Raleigh, October 27-67-1m.

North Carolina Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

AT A MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE Company on the 27th of September, an assessment of 15 per cent. was levied on all premium Notes in the office of the Company at the time the losses occurred, to be paid in three installments, viz: six, nine and twelve months from 1st October, 1865.

The amount of premium Notes on hand,	$120,000
" " Allowed Losses,	10,000
" " Unsettled do.	7,500

(There are some losses not yet reported, the amount of which, of course, cannot now be stated.)

The assessment may appear to be disproportionate to the amount of the losses; but the Directors, taking into consideration the changes in property by sale, without transfer of policies, by destruction during the war, &c., &c., do not think that more will be raised by it than will be needed to meet the actual wants of the Company.

There will be, necessarily some delay in the payment of the losses. It is hoped, however, that there will be no complaint on this account; especially, when it is recollected that payment in some cases, was tendered in Confederate currency and refused.

The Company is prepared to take risks as in former times, and on as favorable terms. Address all letters to the Secretary. T. H. SELBY, Pres't.

LOUISBURG

FEMALE COLLEGE.

REV. T. M. JONES, A. M., Pres't and Proprietor.

THE EXERCISES OF THIS INSTITUTION will begin on the second Wednesday in January, 1866.

Louisburg is a village seldom surpassed for health, intelligence, refinement and morality. It is in Franklin County, nine miles from Franklinton, on the R. and Gaston Railroad. Between these points there is a daily stage line, connecting with trains going North and South.

The College building, located in a beautiful grove, on an elevated site, is large, commodious and well ventilated. It will be thoroughly renovated, and fitted up with neat furniture and fire places in the dormitories. It is our purpose to establish for young ladies a school of the highest grade, affording superior facilities for the acquisition of a thorough and accomplished education.

With the advantages of a good library, a well selected Chemical and Philosophical apparatus, a competent Faculty, and large experience in connection with the Greensboro Female College, we hope, by a faithful discharge of duty, to merit a liberal share of patronage. Boarding pupils will live as members of the President's family. Terms reasonable, and will be made known in due time. Those desiring to send their daughters, will please address me, for the present, at Greensboro, N. C., and circulars will be sent.
